Alberta Tories announce election with expletive-laden Nickelback song

Just because Nickelback is from Alberta doesn't mean that the much-loved-and-loathed band is an appropriate choice for an election announcement. On Tuesday morning, Nickelback's expletive-filled "Burn It To The Ground" — which, thematically, is already an odd choice, even if the Alberta PC government had opted for the cleaner radio edit — blasted over loudspeakers

A person with curly hair, seen from behind, stands on a dark wooden balcony with a railing. They are looking out over a vast, misty landscape. In the distance, a large, glowing dragon head with red eyes and a white beard-like mane emerges from the fog, breathing a bright light. The scene is atmospheric and cinematic.

The Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) is a collegiate athletic conference in the United States in which its fifteen member universities compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA's) Division I, with its football teams competing in the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS), the highest levels for athletic competition in US-based collegiate sports. The ACC sponsors competition in twenty-five sports with many of its member institutions' athletic programs held in high regard nationally. ACC teams and athletes have claimed dozens of national championships in multiple sports throughout the conference's history. Generally, the ACC's top athletes and teams in any particular sport in a given year are considered to be among the top collegiate competitors in the nation. The ACC is considered to be one
